FADE IN:

INT. RADIO STUDIO - DAY

Typical rinky-dinky radio-station studio.

JACK CLARK (50s, levelheaded) sits at a mic with a board of buttons close by.

VINCENT DUBOIS (30s, twitchy) sits at another mic.

A PRODUCER sits behind a glass window.

JACK

Welcome back to Big Sky Forum, back with Vincent DuBois to talk about Barack Obama's citizenship.

VINCE

Or lack thereof, Jack.

JACK

The president's in Montana this week. If you could talk to him, what would you say?

VINCE

I'd just ask him some reasonable questions. A lot of people dismiss us "birthers" as a bunch of conspiracy nuts, but we have valid concerns. We just want proof that our president is American.

JACK

And if there is no birth certificate, then--

VINCE

-- then he's not eligible for the Presidency, by article two of the Constitution. But that's not the important thing.

JACK

There's something more important?

VINCE

We think he's faked the certificate because he was born in Kenya.

JACK

Uh-huh.

VINCE

Over three hundred years ago.

JACK

Maybe I didn't hear that right --

VINCE

He's a vampire, Jack.

Jack laughs.

Uncomfortable pause.

VINCE

Laugh all you want. I'm serious. Have you seen how he holds audiences in his hypnotic thrall? Or how he references hundred-year-old history nobody knows? Those are the acts of a nightstalker.

JACK

Vampires aren't real.

VINCE

Yes they are, Jack, because Barack is one of them.

JACK

But he eats food --

VINCE

Vampires can ingest limited amounts.

JACK

He has kids --

VINCE

They're not his kids.

JACK

There are hundreds of pictures that show Barack Obama aging over the course of his life --

VINCE

-- which tells you how big of a conspiracy we're up against, Jack.

JACK

Okay, what evidence would it take to convince you Obama does not feast on human blood?

VINCE

Jack, these mind games aren't going to do you much good once you're trapped in a government health care blood farm, with your daughters lured into the ranks of the immortal undead.

JACK

But -- okay, okay. We've all seen Obama out in daylight, all the time.

VINCE

Yes, and if you look at the footage, you can see clear signs of sparkling.

JACK

Sparkling? You can't mean--

A button starts blinking on the board.

The producer starts gesturing wildly.

VINCE

It's clearly established in Stephanie Meyer's Twilight series that vampires can go out in daylight, but they sparkle in the sun.

JACK

I'm gonna have to cut in here, we have a caller.

Jack presses the button.

JACK

Hello, you're on Big Sky Forum.

BARACK (V.O.)

Hi, this is Barack Obama.

Vincent makes a cross with his fingers.

VINCE

Demon!

BARACK (V.O.)

Mr. Dubois, accusing me of vampirism is one thing. But saying I'm a Twilight vampire? Sir, that crosses a line of basic human decency.

VINCE

You dare to deny it?

BARACK (V.O.)

They aren't even real vampires. They're just mopey kids that would hang out at Hot Topic. And... vampire baseball? Don't get me started.

VINCE

I'm just citing the evidence.

BARACK (V.O.)

Look, if I were a vampire, I'd be a classy, Bram Stoker vampire. Or maybe one of the Sunnyvale vampires from Buffy. Or, heck, I'd be an Anne Rice metrosexual Louisiana vampire before deigning to join the Cullens in their march through literary mediocrity.

JACK

Sorry to cut in, but we've got to go to commercial right now. We'll be back after the break with Xavier San Pedro, who believes that Obama is secretly an alien robot. Care to stay on the line, Mr. President?

BARACK (V.O.)

Oh, hell yes. That sounds cool.

FADE OUT.
